Classical Chinese Dance Comes to Life at DuPage Children's Museum

(Naperville, IL) – Chinese culture will come to life when DuPage Children's Museum hosts a dance performance from Olinda Chang, Samantha Chi and Anna Chi on Saturday, January 14 at 10:45 a.m. The performance is part of the Museum's Tiny Great Performances series.

During Saturday's performance, audience members will watch the beauty and grace of the Tang Dynasty ribbon dance, discover the influence of martial arts on traditional Chinese dance movement and celebrate the outdoors with Mongolian-style dances. Audience members will journey through another country without ever leaving their seats!

"We're happy to have the opportunity to perform at DuPage Children's Museum," said Olinda Chang. "We look forward to entertaining the Museum guests and providing them with a good time the whole family can enjoy."

The Tiny Great Performances series presents professional actors, dancers and performers in a family-friendly, intimate setting with the goal of promoting a lifelong love of arts in all children, sparking skills that inspire creativity and curiosity. All performances are free with Museum admission or membership.

The Tiny Great Performances™ programs are made possible in part by donations from the Joseph and Bessie Feinberg Foundation, the Illinois Arts Council, the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, the Werth Family and the Fanny R. Wurlitzer Foundation.
